Economic terms of the Securities

The following description of the Security explains the economic terms of the Security and its characteristics.

The Fix to Floating Pure Note is 100% capital protected at maturity. Capital protection means that redemption of the Fix to Floating Pure Note at maturity is promised at the Nominal Amount. The redemption, which will not take place until maturity, is not guaranteed by a third party, but solely assured by the Issuer and is therefore dependent on the Issuer's ability to meet its payment obligations.

Throughout the term investors receive Coupon Payments on the relevant Coupon Payment Date. The level of the Coupon is dependent on the performance of the Underlying.. The Coupon is, however, a minimum of the Minimum Coupon.

Investors have no claims to the/deriving from the Underlying (e.g. voting rights, dividends).

Determination of the price by the Issuer Both the Initial Issue Price of the Fix to Floating Pure Note and the bid and ask prices quoted by the Issuer during its term are based on the Issuer's internal pricing models. Accordingly, unlike in an exchange trading, for example for shares, the prices quoted during the term are not based on supply and demand. The prices in particular contain a margin which the Issuer determines at its free discretion and which may cover, in addition to the Issuer's proceeds, the costs of structuring, market making and settlement of the Fix to Floating Pure Note, any applicable sales costs (distribution fee) and other costs.

Purchase costs Where a fixed or determinable price has been agreed for a transaction between an investor and its bank (principal bank) (fixed price transaction), this price includes all purchase costs and generally a fee for the bank (principal bank). Otherwise, the transaction will be concluded on behalf of the bank (principal bank) with a third party for the account of the investor (commission transaction). Depending on the securities account model used by the investor's bank (principal bank) the fees for the commission transaction may be agreed for example as a percentage of the purchase price, if applicable with a minimum fee and/or maximum fee per transaction or as a fixed fee which applies independent from any transaction for a predetermined period (monthly, quarterly etc.). The fees for commission transactions as well as third-party costs and expenses will be stated separately in the securities statement.

Running costs Investors will incur costs in the amount agreed with the safekeeping bank (principal bank) for the custody of the Fix to Floating Pure Note in the investor's securities account (custody charges). Further post-purchase costs (e.g. costs of sale) may be incurred.

Distribution fee Placement fee: up to 1.00 per cent of the purchase price. The Issuer will either pay the placement fee from the issue proceeds as a one-off turnover-related distribution fee to the bank that sold the Fix to Floating Pure Note to the customer (principal bank), or grant the latter a corresponding discount from the purchase price.

What are the key risks that are specific to the issuer?

The Issuer is subject to the following key risks:

Macroeconomic, Geopolitical and Market Environment: As a corporate and investment bank with a large private client franchise, our businesses are materially affected by global macroeconomic and financial market conditions. Significant challenges may arise from economic growth prospects, the interest rate environment, inflationary pressure, supply chain disruptions, geopolitical risks as well as higher market volatility, potential deterioration of international trade relations, and weakness of global, regional and national economic conditions. Such risks exist in particular from the COVID-19 pandemic and its ongoing impacts, and the large-scale Russian military action against Ukraine. Other risks exist with respect to China and from political and economic instability in key markets.

Business and Strategy: Our results of operation and financial condition have in the past been negatively impacted by the challenging market environment, uncertain macroeconomic and geopolitical conditions, lower levels of client activity, increased competition and regulation, and the immediate impact of our strategic decisions. If we are unable to improve our profitability, we may be unable to meet our strategic aspirations, and may have difficulty maintaining capital, liquidity and leverage at levels expected by market participants and our regulators.

Regulation and Supervision: Regulatory reforms enacted and proposed in response to weaknesses in the financial sector, together with increased regulatory scrutiny more generally, have had and continue to have a significant impact on us and may adversely affect our business and ability to execute our strategic plans. Competent regulators may prohibit us from making dividend payments or payments on our regulatory capital instruments or take other actions if we fail to comply with regulatory requirements.

Internal Control Environment: A robust and effective internal control environment and adequate infrastructure (comprising people, policies and procedures, controls testing and IT systems) are necessary to ensure that we conduct our business in compliance with the laws, regulations and associated supervisory expectations applicable to us. We have identified the need to strengthen our internal control environment and infrastructure and have embarked on initiatives to accomplish this. If these initiatives are not successful or proceed too slowly, our reputation, regulatory position and financial condition may be materially adversely affected, and our ability to achieve our strategic ambitions may be impaired.

Litigation, Regulatory Enforcement Matters and Investigations: We operate in a highly and increasingly regulated and litigious environment, potentially exposing us to liability and other costs, the amounts of which may be substantial and difficult to estimate, as well as to legal and regulatory sanctions and reputational harm.

Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG)-Related Changes: The impacts of rising global temperatures, and the enhanced focus on climate change and the transition to a "net-zero" economy from society, our regulators and the banking sector, have led to the emergence of new and increasing sources of financial and non-financial risks. These include the physical risks arising from extreme weather events which are growing in frequency and severity, transition risks as carbon-intensive sectors are faced with higher taxation, reduced demand and potentially restricted access to financing, and risks relating to the portrayal of ESG aspect of activities. These risks can impact Deutsche Bank across a broad range of financial and non-financial risk types.

The ranking of the Issuer's liabilities in insolvency or in the event of the imposition of Resolution Measures, such as a bail-in, is determined by German law. The Securities are unsecured unsubordinated preferred liabilities that would rank higher than the Issuer's regulatory capital, its subordinated liabilities and its unsecured unsubordinated non-preferred liabilities. The liabilities under such Securities rank pari passu with other unsecured unsubordinated preferred liabilities of the Issuer, including but not limited to derivatives, structured products and deposits not subject to protection. The liabilities under such Securities rank below liabilities protected in Insolvency or excluded from Resolution Measures, such as certain protected deposits. In accordance with § 46f(5) of the German Banking Act (Kreditwesengesetz, "KWG"), the obligations under such Securities rank in priority of those under debt instruments of the Issuer within the meaning of Section 46f(6) sentence 1 KWG (also in conjunction with § 46f(9) KWG) or any successor provision, including eligible liabilities within the meaning of Articles 72a and 72b(2) CRR.]

Rights attached to the securities

The Securities provide holders of the Securities, on redemption or upon exercise, subject to a total loss, with a claim for payment of a cash amount. The Securities also provide holders with an entitlement for the payment of a coupon.

The Fix to Floating Pure Note is 100% capital protected at maturity. Capital protection means that redemption of the Fix to Floating Pure Note at maturity is promised at the Nominal Amount. The redemption, which will not take place until maturity, is not guaranteed by a third party, but solely assured by the Issuer and is therefore dependent on the Issuer's ability to meet its payment obligations.

Throughout the term investors receive Coupon Payments on the relevant Coupon Payment Date. The level of the Coupon is dependent on the performance of the Underlying. The Coupon is, however, a minimum of the Minimum Coupon.

Investors have no claims to the/deriving from the Underlying (e.g. voting rights, dividends).

Limitations to the rights attached to the Securities

Under the conditions set out in the Terms and Conditions, the Issuer is entitled to terminate the Securities and to amend the Terms and Conditions.

Where will the securities be traded?

No application has been made to admit the Securities to the regulated market of any exchange.

What are the key risks that are specific to the securities?

Risks associated with Market Disruptions

Subject to certain conditions being met, the Calculation Agent may determine that a Market Disruption has occurred. This means that the price or level of the Underlying cannot be determined, at least temporarily. Market Disruptions may occur on an exchange relevant for the Underlying, particularly in the event of trade interruptions. This may have an effect on the timing of valuation and may delay payments on or the settlement of the Securities.

Risks associated with Adjustment and Termination Events

Subject to certain conditions being met, the Issuer may replace Underlyings, adjust the Final Terms or terminate the Securities. In case of a termination, the Issuer will pay, usually prior to the scheduled settlement date of the Securities, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent. Such amount may be significantly less than an investor's initial investment in Securities and in certain circumstances may be zero.

Any adjustment or termination of the Securities or replacement of an Underlying may lead to a loss in value of the Securities or may at maturity lead to the realisation of losses or even to the total loss of the invested amount. It is also not excluded that an adjustment measure will later prove to be incorrect or to be disadvantageous for Securityholders. A Securityholder could also be put in an economically worse position by the adjustment measure than before such adjustment measure.

Effect of prevailing market rates on the Market Value and the Coupon Amounts to be paid

The Market Value of the Securities during their term depends on the level of interest rates for instruments of comparable maturities or terms.

The level of the market rate is determined by supply and demand in the international money markets, which are influenced by macroeconomic factors, speculation and central bank and government intervention or other political circumstances. Fluctuations in short term and/or long term interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Securities. The greater the volatility is of the underlying interest rate, the greater the risk is of fluctuations in this value.

Fluctuations in the level of the market rate generally may have the same impact on the value of the Securities as for fixed rate bonds: rising market rates will under normal conditions result in a falling value and falling interest rates will result in a rising value of the Securities.

Where Coupon Amounts are payable in respect of the Securities and the relevant Coupon is determined by reference to a floating rate, the Market Value of the Securities may decrease if the Coupon Amounts to be paid during the remaining term of the Securities are expected to decrease, whereas an increase in the expectations of the level of the Coupon Amounts to be paid in respect of the Securities may result in an increase in the Market Value of the Securities. The Coupon will fluctuate, among other things, as a result of any changes in prevailing interest rates, general economic conditions, conditions of financial markets and European and international political events.

An investment in the Securities may involve interest rate risk where there are fluctuations in the interest rates payable on deposits in the Settlement Currency of the Securities. This may adversely influence the Market Value of the Securities.

Exchange rate / currency risks

An investment in the Securities involves exchange rate and/or currency risks, if the Settlement Currency of the Securities is different from the currency of a Securityholder's home jurisdiction. In addition to the risk of an adverse development of the Underlying there is the risk of a loss in value of the relevant rate of exchange which can, respectively, offset any favourable development of the Underlying.

The Securities may be Illiquid

It is not possible to predict if and to what extent a secondary market may develop in the Securities or at what price the Securities will trade in the secondary market or whether such market will be liquid. Insofar and as long as the Securities are listed or quoted or admitted to trading on a stock exchange, no assurance is given that any such listing or quotation or admission to trading will be maintained. Higher liquidity does not necessarily result from a listing, quotation or admission to trading.

If the Securities are not listed or quoted or admitted to trading on any stock exchange or quotation system, pricing information for the Securities may be more difficult to obtain and the liquidity of the Securities may be adversely affected. The liquidity of the Securities may also be affected by restrictions on offers and sales of the Securities in some jurisdictions.

Even where an investor is able to realise its investment in the Securities by selling this may be at a substantially lower value than its original investment in the Securities. Depending on the structure of the Securities, the realisation value at any time may be zero (0), which means a total loss of the capital invested. In addition, a transaction fee may be payable in respect of a sale of the Securities.

Regulatory Bail-in and other Resolution Measures / Special status and ranking of the Securities

Laws enable the competent resolution authority to also take measures in respect of the Securities. These measures may have an adverse effect on the Securityholders.

If the legal requirements are met in respect of the Issuer, BaFin, as the resolution authority, may, in addition to other measures, write down Securityholders' claims from the Securities in part or in full or convert them into equity (shares) of the Issuer ("Resolution Measures"). Other Resolution Measures available include (but are not limited to) transferring the Securities to another entity, varying the terms and conditions of the Securities (including, but without limitation to, varying the maturity of the Securities) or cancelling the Securities. The competent resolution authority may apply Resolution Measures individually or in any combination.

If the resolution authority takes Resolution Measures, Securityholders bear the risk of losing their claims from the Securities. In particular, this includes their claims for payment of the cash amount or redemption amount or for delivery of the delivery item.

Potential investors should consider the risk that they may lose all of their investment, including the principal amount plus any accrued interest, if Resolution Measures are initiated, and should be aware that extraordinary public financial support for troubled banks, if any, would only potentially be used as a last resort after having assessed and exploited, to the maximum extent practicable, the Resolution Measures, including Regulatory Bail-in.

The Issuer expects that it will use the Securities to fulfill particular minimum capital requirements under international and EU banking resolution rules, and has therefore specified Eligible Liabilities Format to apply in the Specific Terms of the Securities. In this case, claims arising under the Securities may not be set off against any claims of the Issuer. No security or guarantee shall be provided at any time to secure claims of the Securityholders under the Securities. Any security or guarantee already provided or granted in the future in connection with other liabilities of the Issuer may not be used for claims under the Securities. Furthermore any redemption or repurchase of the Securities prior to their scheduled maturity is subject to the prior approval of the competent authority. In addition, an extraordinary early termination of the Securities is excluded. If the Securities are redeemed or repurchased by the Issuer early under circumstances other than those, then the amounts paid must be returned to the Issuer irrespective of any agreement to the contrary. These restrictions may limit the rights of the Issuer and, in particular, of the Securityholders and might expose them to the risk that their investment will have a lower potential return than expected.

Also, the Issuer or its Affiliates may not be willing or able to act as market maker for the Securities. Market making and any other repurchase or any redemption or termination of the Securities prior to their scheduled maturity would require the prior approval of the competent authority in this case. Without approval for repurchase, the liquidity of the Securities would be very limited or might even completely cease, which could make divestiture practically impossible. If the Securities were nevertheless redeemed or repurchased without regulatory preapproval, then the amounts paid to the Securityholders would have to be returned to the Issuer irrespective of any agreement to the contrary.
