1. Product Description

This Worst-Of Autocallable Barrier Reverse Convertible (the “Note”) is a CHF denominated Note linked to ABB, Credit Suisse and Novartis (the “Underlyings”) and offers the investor a quarterly coupon payment. In addition, this Note offers an Early Redemption Feature: An Early Redemption Event is deemed to have occurred, if all Underlyings have closed at or above the Early Redemption Level on any Early Redemption Date. In this case, the Issuer redeems the Note at 100% of the Nominal Amount and pays the Coupon Amount on the respective Coupon Payment Date. If, however, the Note has not been early redeemed (including as of the Final Valuation Date), the investor receives a reimbursement of 100% of the Nominal Amount at Maturity if no Barrier Event has occurred or if the Final Reference Levels of all Underlyings are at or above their Strike on the Final Valuation Date. If a Barrier Event has occurred and the Final Reference Level of at least one of the Underlyings is below its Initial Reference Level, redemption will take place by delivery of a number of shares of the Worst Performing Underlying determined on the basis of the Exercise Ratio. Fractional amounts cannot be delivered, but will be paid in the form of a corresponding cash payment in the Settlement Currency.

A Barrier Event is deemed to have occurred if at any time from Initial Valuation Date (excluding) to Final Valuation Date (including), the observed price of at least one of the Underlyings is strictly below its Barrier. The Barrier is observed continuously.

Secondary Market	Given regular market circumstances, Deutsche Bank AG is expected to continuously quote bid and ask prices, without being legally obliged to do so. The expected bid-/ask spread is 1%.
Pricing in the secondary market	This Note is quoted dirty in the secondary market.
Fees	In connection with this transaction, the Issuer and/or its affiliates have paid and/or pay to the Distributor, a distribution fee equivalent to up to 0.8% p.a. of the Nominal Amount. Total fees are included in the Issue Price and will be charged in full upon subscription (up-front fee).
Publication of notifications and adjustments	All notifications to investors concerning the Notes and adjustments to the product terms (e.g. due to corporate actions) are published under the area "Downloads" of the respective product page on www.x-markets.ch .

Tax Treatment in Switzerland

Income Tax	This product is classified as transparent (Non-IUP = Non Interest Unique Predominant). For individuals having their tax residence in Switzerland and holding the products as part of their private property, the interest component of the coupons are subject to income tax, when due. For such investors, a premium component should be classified as a capital gain and should not be subject to income tax.
Issue Stamp Duty (Emissionsabgabe)	The Notes should not be subject to the Swiss Issue Stamp Duty.
Transfer Stamp Duty (Umsatzabgabe)	Swiss Transfer Stamp Duty on secondary market transaction of up to 0.3% of the consideration, if a Swiss securities dealer is involved in the transaction as party or as intermediary and no exemption applies. The investor may have to bear Swiss Transfer Stamp Duty and usual fees in case of physical delivery of the Underlying (physical settlement).
Withholding Tax (Verrechnungssteuer)	Income derived from the Notes should not be subject to the Swiss Withholding Tax.
EU Savings Tax	For Swiss paying agents, the Notes are in scope of the Swiss law relating to the EU savings tax with respect to interest component of the coupons (TK06). But please see below the information about the implementation of the Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters.
Bilateral Agreements	For Investors resident in a State with whom Switzerland has concluded an agreement on a final withholding tax (Abgeltungssteuerabkommen; currently in place with Austria and the United Kingdom) and provided the Notes are held in a custody account with a qualifying Swiss paying agent, any investment income or realised capital gains might be subject to the final withholding tax as laid out in the respective bilateral agreement. But please see below the information about the implementation of the Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters.
Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters	Switzerland will implement the Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters ("AEOI") as of 1st January 2017 with the EU and Australia, Jersey, Guernsey, Isle of Man, Iceland, Norway, Japan, Canada and South Korea. Switzerland is negotiating the introduction of the AEOI with other countries. In this context the EU Savings Tax for Swiss paying agents and the Final Withholding Tax with UK and Austria will be repealed from 1st January 2017.

The above is a non-binding summary of the main tax consequences applicable to private investors resident in Switzerland and does not take special circumstances of investors into consideration. Tax laws and the tax authorities' practice may change, possibly with retroactive effect. Investors should consult their own tax advisor. Deutsche Bank AG expressly excludes all liability in respect of any tax implications.

2. Prospect for Profits and Losses

Market Expectations	This Note might be suitable for investors who expect the Underlyings to trade sideways or slightly negative during the lifetime of the Note. In any case, investors expect none of the Underlyings to trade below the Barrier Level during the lifetime of the Note.
Risk Tolerance	Investors need to be aware that the risks of this Note are considerable. Investors need to be experienced in this Note and as well as the underlying indices or stock markets. Investors should be willing to accept the full downside risk of a direct investment into the Underlyings.
Profit potential	Any profit from this Note results from the predefined coupon payments. As such, the maximum gain is limited to the coupons paid during the lifetime of the Note.
Loss Potential	If a Barrier Event occurs, the investor is fully exposed to the negative performance of the Worst Performing Underlying. Accordingly, in a worst case scenario, the investor might lose his entire investment, if the Worst Performing Underlying becomes worthless on Final Valuation Date. Even if no Barrier Event occurs, the price of this Note during its lifetime can be considerably below its Issue Price.

3. Significant Risks for the Investors

Product specific risks

This Note is not capital protected. The final return depends mainly on the value of the Underlying assets. The Note may decline in value and investors should be prepared to sustain a total loss of their investment in the Note.

The Underlyings may show a high degree of correlation which may even increase during the lifetime of the Note. A high correlation increases the likelihood that the direction of future changes in the value of the Underlyings will be the same for all of the Underlyings. In case of a downturn of the value of the Underlyings the risk that a Barrier Event in respect of at least one of the Underlyings occurs will increase.

Investors may lose their capital partially or in full, if the Note has to be redeemed early due to reasons beyond the control of the Issuer.

Market risks

An investment in the Note involves risks. These risks may include, among others, equity market, bond market, foreign exchange, interest rate, market volatility and economic, political and regulatory risks and any combination of these and other risks. An investment in the Note should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future changes in the value of the Underlyings, and/or in the composition or method of calculation of the Underlyings, as the return of any such investment will be dependent, inter alia, upon such changes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effect with regard to the Note such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Note.

Secondary market risks

Under normal market conditions, Deutsche Bank AG intends but is not obliged to maintain a secondary market on a regular basis throughout the life of the Note. There is no obligation to provide bid and/or ask prices for a specific order or volume and there is no guarantee of a specific liquidity or of a specific market making spread. In extraordinary market situations or in the case of technical disruptions, it may be temporarily difficult or impossible to buy or sell Note. Hence investors cannot rely on being able to purchase or sell the Note on a specific date or at a specific price.

9.00% p.a. Autocall Worst-Of BRC linked to ABB, Credit Suisse & Novartis

Deutsche Bank AG may provide a secondary market and bid and ask prices for the Note taking into account prevailing market conditions. There will be a price difference between bid and ask prices (i.e. the spread). The bid and ask prices quoted by the Issuer during its term are based on the Issuer's internal pricing models. Accordingly, unlike in an on exchange trading, for example for shares, the prices quoted during the term are not based on supply and demand. The prices in particular contain a margin which the Issuer determines at its free discretion and which may cover, in addition to the Issuer's proceeds, the structuring costs of the Note, any applicable sales costs (distribution fee) and other costs. It is not possible to predict the price at which the Note will trade in the market. Consequently, a purchaser must be prepared to hold the Note until the Settlement Date or risk to sell it at a price lower than the initial capital invested.

Issuer risk

The value of the Note may depend not only on the performance of the Underlyings, but also on the creditworthiness of the Issuer, which may change during the lifetime of the Note. The investor is exposed to the risk that the Issuer is unable to meet its obligations under the Note, for instance in the event of bankruptcy (inability to pay / over-indebtedness) or an official directive for resolution action. Such a directive may be issued if, for example, the Issuer's assets fall below the amount of its liabilities, the Issuer cannot, at present or in the near future, pay off its liabilities at maturity or requires extraordinary financial support, and may, among other things, result in a write-down or write-off of the claims arising from the Note or in conversion of the Note into shares of the Issuer. A total loss of the invested amount is possible. The Note is a debt security and as such not subject to any deposit protection. The Issuer Ratings indicated in this document reflect the situation at the time of issuance and may change. The actual Issuer Ratings at any given time can be found on the Issuer's website (www.db.com) under "Investor Relations/Ratings".

Risk of termination and cancellation / Reinvestment risk

The Issuer may terminate the Note with immediate effect in the event of obvious written or mathematical errors in the Terms of the Note or if certain extraordinary events provided in the Terms of the Note occur. Extraordinary events are:

- changes, particularly in connection with the Underlying, which have a material effect on the objective ability or method of determination of the price or level of the Underlying or its theoretical economic value; these include in particular ceasing to calculate the Underlying and
- events, in particular due to changes in actual, economic, legal and tax conditions, which:
 - affect the Issuer's Hedging Arrangements and hinder it in meeting its obligations in connection with the Note;
 - cause a substantial adverse change for the Issuer in the basis of the calculation of the issue price of the Note.

Instead of immediate termination, the Issuer may also amend the terms and conditions. In case of immediate termination, investors receive payment of an amount equivalent to the market price to be determined by the Issuer at this time. This may also be significantly lower than the purchase price paid by the investor. The investor is exposed to the risk that the Note may be terminated at a time that is unfavorable for him and that he will be able to reinvest the amount received only on less favorable terms.
